

TOBACCO MARKET

Continues Strong With Prices About the Same

About 700,000 Pounds Sold on the Local Brakes Last Week.

During the past week tobacco has been selling at very satisfactory prices at both the local warehouses and the farmers have nearly all been well satisfied with the prices received and few rejections have been made. A great deal of the weed was sold below its value on account of being too wet but it is now coming in in better conditions.

Nearly 700,000 pounds changed hands here last week, the Farmers' house selling nearly 500,000 pounds while the Burley house sold about 200,000 pounds. The market is not as glutted here as it was for a while and prices are a shade better on some grades.

The Farmers' house reports a sale of over 162,000 pounds Monday at an average of better than 13½ cents, some crops averaging in the neighborhood of 20 cents.

The Burley house reports Monday's sale as very satisfactory and splendid prices were obtained.

Reports from other markets throughout the State show that Mt. Sterling not only has one of the largest loose leaf markets in Kentucky but one of the highest—so farmers certainly will make no mistake in bringing their tobacco to this market in preference to others.

Literary Society Elects Officers.

The "Purple and Old Gold" Literary Society of the Public Graded and High School met last week and elected the following officers: Carroll Kelly, President; Miss Mary Beall, Vice President; Miss Emerald Judy, Secretary; Howard VanAntwerp, Jr., Treasurer.

Splendid Sale.

Col. S. M. Newmeyer reports his famous Mill Remnant Sale as the best sale he has had since being in business. This sale closes Saturday and if you have not attended do so at once and get your share of the bargains.

SESSION SHORT

January Term Montgomery Circuit Court Short One

Nearly All of the Important Cases Continued to Next Term.

The January term of the Montgomery Circuit Court was a very short one as nearly all the important cases were continued until the next term of the court.

The case of Clarence and Ernest Arnett and R. C. Minnix, of Salyersville, charged with the stabbing and killing of Lee Patrick, of that county, last July, was postponed Thursday until the April term of court, the defense not being ready for trial. The defendants are alleged to have killed Patrick with a cheese knife, the murder resulting over a divorce case. There were twenty-five witnesses here for the defense and thirty-five for the Commonwealth.

The case is costing the State many thousands of dollars and, as there is much feeling on both sides, it will probably be one of the bitterest fought cases tried in this court for some time.

Jailer C. T. Wilson was indicted by the Grand Jury for malfeasance in office and was also required by the Court to give a peace bond in the sum of $500.00 which he was unable to give and was ordered confined in the Lexington jail. While there Mr. Wilson, whose physical condition has been very bad for several weeks, will receive medical treatment and it is hoped that he will soon be all right again.

While court had not adjourned as we go to press it is more than likely that the term will close with this day's business.

Father McCaffrey Transferred.

Father T. J. McCaffrey, formerly of this city, has been transferred from Florence, Ky., to St. Patrick's church, Covington, Ky. This is quite a promotion and his many friends here, Catholics and Protestants alike, rejoice with him in his good fortune.

Jury Commissioners Appointed.

Judge A. W. Young has appointed Messrs. A. S. Johnson, Sam Turley and J. A. Stephens as Jury Commissioners for the ensuing year.

FISCAL COURT'S ACTION PUTS DAMPER ON SPIRIT

Of Winchester "Boosters" and May Mean Loss of Big Improvements to That City.

MT. STERLING SHOWS ACTIVITY THAT MEANS SOMETHING.

The following news item, taken from the the Winchester Sun of recent date, indicates what a splendid chance Mt. Sterling has of getting the Kentucky Utilities Company to expend $35,000 or $45,000 in this city.

It is up to us, so let our Business Men's Club and City Council get together and land this plum.

Let's be friendly to capital and Mt. Sterling will continue to thrive and prosper while Winchester sleeps:

"The action of the Fiscal Court in declining to grant a franchise to the Kentucky Utilities Company seems to have put a crimp in the progressive spirit of the Winchester Commercial Club and Clark county.

"Mr. Reed, the vice president of the company, appeared before the Fiscal Court and stated in substance that his company has secured the franchise in about twelve counties for furnishing electricity and asked for a similar franchise here, also stating that if the franchise was granted his company would begin at once improvements to cost from $35,000 to $45,000 on the plant here in Winchester.

"The Commercial Club had first investigated the proposition and after several meetings had approved it and so recommended to the Fiscal Court.

"The idea of getting $35,000 or $45,000 improvements in the city of Winchester appealed to the Commercial Club most strongly.

"Mr. Reed also stated that if the franchise was not granted the improvements needed here to enable the company to complete the life of the city franchise would be from $5,000 to $7,500.

NOT TO EXCEED 12 CENTS.

"In the proposed franchise he agreed to furnish electricity throughout the county not to exceed 12 cents per kilowatt, and to any persons who would build the line from the main trunk line to their property, agreeing in consideration of same to rebate each month 10 per cent. of their consumption bill until the line thus built had been paid for. He stated that his company believed that in a few years electricity would be the one great power for heating and lighting and operating purposes and that the farmers would be its greatest consumers, and that while it was yet in its infancy, his company was willing to make investments of from $35,000 to $45,000 in this city on their faith and belief that it would in the future become a paying investment.

"It was expected that the Fiscal Court would approve the franchise as Mr. Reed practically agreed to every concession that was asked, but when the vote was taken there were only two in favor of it—Squire Swope and Squire Lindsay.

A WEALTHY ORGANIZATION.

"Mr. Reed's company is a very wealthy organization and is the kind that any city would be glad to have in its midst. It has plenty of money and backing, and is the kind of business enterprise that communities like Winchester and Clark county want.

"Winchester looks like an ideal place from which to have this electricity generated and furnished to other points, but it is understood Mt. Sterling is making strenuous efforts to have the improvements made there as they claim that they can give to the company free water and other inducements that cannot be obtained here.

"Montgomery county has already granted the franchise and the probabilities are that the improvements which would otherwise have been made in Clark county, will now be made in Montgomery and that Clark county instead of being the big fish in the puddle will be the minnow.

ELECTRICITY A COMING POWER.

"Electricity is certainly the coming power and farmers throughout the Eastern States are rapidly installing it in all the businesses.

"In New York and New Jersey they are now milking cows by electricity, all the suburban residents are using electricity for ironing, washing and all kinds of motor power, and it will be only a few years until the same will be done throughout Kentucky. Some point near us will be a big distributing station, and with from $35,000 to $45,000 already invested in Winchester it would seem that Winchester would have been that point, but with the investment made in Mt. Sterling the chances are that Mt. Sterling will secure what Clark county has turned down."

Louisville Bank Fails to the Regret of Local Stockholders.

The Commercial Bank and Trust Company, of Louisville, was closed last week by the State Bank Inspector and Examiner. It is said the depositors will be paid in full while the stockholders will lose heavily. Dr. Benj. L. Branner was president of the institution and Clarence Lebus was one of the largest stockholders. Among those who owned stock in the defunct bank were a number of Mt. Sterling people, and, in fact a number from almost every town and county in the State.

POPULAR COUPLE

Mr. Marion Bridges and Miss Nannie Shackelford Marry.

The Wedding Took Place in Lexington Tuesday Morning.

Mr. Marion Bridges and Miss Nannie Shackelford surprised their many friends by being quietly married in the parlors of the Phoenix Hotel, Tuesday morning, January 28, at 10 o'clock. The wedding was a very quiet affair and was only attended by a few friends, among them being Miss Laura Shackelford, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Susette Johnson Perry.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Shackelford, of the county, and is one of Montgomery's most charming and gracious daughters, possessing a sweet and lovable disposition, so essential to happiness in the home life.

The groom belongs to one of the oldest and most aristocratic families in the Commonwealth and is one of this county's most popular and polished gentlemen. He is considered one of the best judges of horse flesh in the State and is well known as a breeder of saddle horses. Mr. Bridges is a man widely known and admired throughout this section and his friends are numbered by his acquaintances.

After a bridal trip to Florida of several weeks the couple will make their home in this county.

The ADVOCATE joins the many friends of this influential couple in extending very best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous married life.

Mt. Sterling Boy Honored.

News has been received by friends here of the high honor conferred on a former local boy. Mr. C. D. Wade was last week elected President of the Eastern Retail Shoe Dealers' Association. Mr. Wade left here about a year ago to engage in business at Jamestown, N. Y.

Buys Interest of Dr. Ricketts in Variety Store.

Is a Popular and Deserving Man With Much Experience.

Dr. J. T. Ricketts has sold his interest in the Variety Store, located on Bank street, to Mr. Walter Wright, formerly connected with The Fair Store. He is one of the most popular men that ever worked in this city and has a large following which is sure to make the Variety Store continue to be headquarters for bargain hunters.

With two such gentlemen as Messrs. Wright and McCormick at the head, the Variety Store's future prosperity is assured.

Just what business Dr. J. T. Ricketts, the retiring member of the firm, will engage in, could not be ascertained at the time we went to press, but a gentleman of his qualifications and experience, is sure to get into some lucrative business.

Farm Journal Soon To Be Started in Mt. Sterling.

The Blue Grass Farm Journal a publication devoted to the interest of the farmers of this section and especially Montgomery county, will be launched in this city Saturday, Feb. 8th, with Mr. W. Hoffman Wood as editor and manager. The paper will contain 8 pages and will be in the form of a magazine. It will be issued each Saturday and will have pages especially devoted to the local tobacco markets, saddle and trotting horses, poultry and other subjects of interest to the local farmer.

Mr. Wood has the best wishes of many friends in his new project.

Write Ideas for Moving Picture Plays

YOU CAN WRITE PHOTO PLAYS AND EARN $25.00 OR MORE WEEKLY

We Will Show You How

If you have ideas—if you can THINK—we will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100 and more for single scenarios, or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure,

College Athletics.

The question of athletics is becoming so much a feature of the colleges, and is becoming the fruitful source of so much contention, that a more satisfactory and uniform code of rules and regulations has become necessary. The universities of the country have made their athletic superiority so pronounced, that excellence in this department has come to be regarded as far more important than excellence in the college curriculum. If Yale beat Harvard in the annual boat race; or Princeton can beat Columbia in the Thanksgiving football contest, the winners seem to think the college it represents has maintained its reputation as a source of scholastic superiority for another twelve months at least. The smaller colleges and State Universities, scattered over the country, have caught the same spirit of emulation, and with it the same bickerings and dissatisfaction. It would appear to one outside of the influence of college life and environment that the present situation has grown so tense, and the feelings annually engendered so acute, that, unless some tribunal can be established, to the ruling of which all must yield, the result to the college and the student body in general, must soon, if it has not already become, productive of far more harm than good. Certainly some rule of eligibility ought to be devised that would make simple the right of any matriculate to play in a given game or on a given team, and certainly some body can be organized to which all disputes can be referred, with the understanding their decisions are to be final.

The disagreeable season through which the State University has passed, and through which it is still passing, finds its origin, not in the college curriculum, but wholly in the athletic branch, and seems to be traceable to the eligibility of one or two boys to play on the football team. Certain rulings from some sort of tribunal, have been repudiated by the student body, which, coupled with certain personal antagonisms and jealousies, has brought confusion and disorganization into the whole institution, resulting in incendiary charges and counter-charges that have occupied the time of the courts for the past two weeks.

Some plan can and must be devised that will make impossible a repetition of present conditions here and elsewhere. Either athletics must be brought under a satisfactory system of control, applying to all college associations, and made subservient to the college curriculum, or athletics must be eliminated. Students must be made to know they will have to conform to established rules, and if they do not be treated in some such summary way as to teach them that disobedience means expulsion. The storm of rebellion may be central over Lexington just at this time, but it will soon move to some other point, and produce exactly the same conditions. We urgently suggest the necessity for immediate action by the whole college fraternities of the country.—Lexington Herald.

Can Babies Be Sent By Parcel Post Route?

The mailing of babies by parcel post is a real infant industry, which Postmaster General Hitchcock is asked to foster.

In the circumstances of his bachelorhood, Mr. Hitchcock is considering seriously the calling into consultation of experts in the transportation of babies, as a letter which he received last week presents to him a mail problem with which he is quite unfamiliar. To add to his embarrassment the letter contains a note of pathos which appeals strongly to the postmaster general.

This is the letter identically as it was phrased and punctuated:

THE LETTER.
"Ft. McPherson, Ga., Jan. 16, 1913. "Postmaster General, Washington, D. C.

"Sir—I have been corresponding with a party in Pennsylvania about getting a baby to raise (Our home being without One.) May I ask what specifications to use in wrapping so it (baby) would comply with regulations and be allowed shipment by parcel post as the express co., are so rough in handling.

"Yours,
"_____"

The name signed to the letter is withheld at the request of Mr. Hitchcock.

As babies, in the opinion of the Postmaster General, do not fall within the category of bees and bugs—the only live things that may be transported by mail, he is apprehensive he may be of assistance to his correspondent.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Mt. Sterling Citizens Testify for Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of a Mt. Sterling citizen, given in her own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders of any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Mt. Sterling citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.
Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?

Mrs. Laura Willoughby, 17 Strother Street, Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "It is a pleasure to tell of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills as they always give entire satisfaction. I had pains through my back and kidneys and at times I was dizzy and nervous. At night I was restless and mornings was weak and tired. A neighbor advised the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply from Duerson's Drug Store and their use gave me great relief. I now feel better in every way."

OLD POLISH CUSTOM REVIVED

Imposing but Somewhat Extravagant Idea May Catch the Fancy of Fickle People of Paris.

Paris is threatened with the revival of an old custom that was formerly in vogue in Poland. When the lord of a castle invited his friends to dine in his baronial hall, he emphasized his lavish hospitality by throwing all the silver and plate used on his table into the well filled moat after the meal, thus assuring his guests that they should never be asked to eat again from the same dishes.

The modern adaptation of this fantastic lordly whim is to invite one's guests to sit down at a table whereon nothing but the flowers, the table decoration and the napkins may be seen. As soon as the guests are seated a bevy of servants, presumably one for each guest, bring in the plates, glasses, knives and forks, etc.

Of course this could only be done with a very large staff of servants, directed by a butler who was a genius. If somewhat troublesome and rather odd, it would, no doubt, be very imposing; but it is a novelty which can never take the place of the studied elegance and refinement of a table that has been arranged beforehand with care and art.

STAGING A PLAY

"I can give you the part of a butler."

"I couldn't take a small part like that."

"You are evidently not used to society dramas. The butler has his share of the epigrams."

LESSER EVIL.

Even when there is an undercurrent of reality the stream of Irish humor flows smoothly. A man walking along a country road met a peasant driving a wretched-looking donkey, with a load of turf that seemed to tax the strength of the unfortunate animal to its utmost.

"Why," said the man, "you ought to be taken up for cruelty to animals for loading the ass so heavily as that."

"Beggorra, sir," said the peasant, who was on his way to the market town to sell the turf, "beggorra, if I didn't do that I'd be took up for cruelty to a wife and six childer."—Weekly Telegraph, London.

FASHION'S CHANGE.

"I remember you cured me of this same trouble a dozen years ago. Why don't you use the same treatment now?"

"A dozen years ago?" echoed the doctor. "My dear sir, the medical profession has made wonderful strides since then, and I couldn't think of such a thing."—Puck.

It Helps!

Mrs. J. F. Daniels, of Sip, Ky., writes: "I was so sick for 3 or 4 years, I had to hire my work done, most of the time. I had given up hope. When I began to take Cardui, I knew, right away, it was helping me. Now, I am better than ever before in my life, and Cardui did it."

The Parcel Post and The Express Companies.

The express companies, of all the great monopolies, have been the most arrogant. One of the largest of the companies has already announced its intention to cut its rates to meet the established postal rates, this too, in face of the fact that it has maintained a lobby at Washington for years for no other purpose than to defeat any parcel post legislation, and to do so, representing that its own business would not admit of a reduction in rates. The suggestion of Postmaster General Hitchcock that the Government should purchase the express companies and control the entire express carriage business through the parcel post, ought not to be received with favor. Why should the government expend millions of dollars to buy something that exists only in name? What the express companies do the government cannot do! If the people of the country have been compelled to bear the extortions of the express companies for years, is that any reason why the government should now pay an enormous sum to have them retire from business? They must of necessity retire anyway in a few years. Already their stock has declined a full fifty per cent. It must decline even more. The express business is passing from private to public control. It may be an entering wedge for like control of the telegraph and telephone business, but these are not so naturally the subject of governmental control as the express business, which is only an enlargement of the postal facilities. The express companies alone are to blame. So arbitrary had they become that toleration was no longer possible, and whatever discomfiture may come upon them, the regrets of the public will be few. When the government established the postal savings system it paid nothing to the banks; and when it established the special delivery it paid nothing to the telegraph companies, and there are now existing no just reasons why it should pay the express companies millions for nothing. It is to be hoped that Mr. Hitchcock's suggestion may not be entertained.

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently."—Hon. John R. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala. 1m

MUCH COMFORT FOR POULTRY

Hens Sing and Cackle in Cozy Winter House When Kept Busy Scratching for Their Feed.

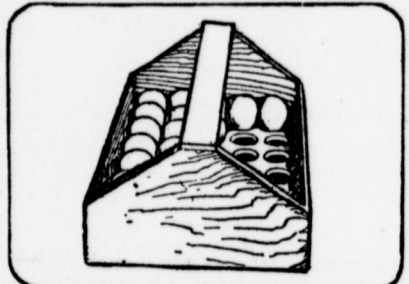

In our winter poultry house on cold, snowy days our hens sing and cackle as if they were enjoying summer weather. The house is 14x56 feet, with large windows on the southern exposure. Its equipment consists of clean, inviting nest boxes, self-feeders, with grit and shells, the ground floor banked deeply with leaves and straw, writes George W. Brown of Hancock county, Ohio, in the New England Homestead. We keep the hens busy from daylight until perch time digging after small grain scattered several times daily in the litter. Lawn clippings, meat offal, beets, pumpkins, cabbage and an occasional sheaf of wheat, oats or clover hay suspended from the roof gives them business.

It is the busy hen that lays the eggs. She hustles and has red blood coursing in her veins to keep her warm on cold days. Our perches can be hooked to the roof, and if we have any drones in the flock inclined to spend much of the day on the perch we just hook the perches to the ceiling. They soon get the habit of hustling with the rest of the flock. We have no use for drones on our farm save in our apiary.

HANDY FOR COLLECTING EGGS

Desirable to Keep Separate Box for Each Pen Where Trap Nests Are Being Used.

When trap nests are used it is sometimes desirable to keep a carrying box for each pen which receives the eggs as they are gathered, says the Farm and Home. Number each tray or box. When trap nests are used in some to correspond with the number of the pen. The holes in the bottom board keep the eggs in an upright position on the small end where the numbers can be easily read.

Handy Egg Tray.

HABIT OF EXCHANGING EGGS

Little Money and No Satisfaction in Practice—Best to Sell Direct to the Consumer.

There is no satisfaction, and but very little money in exchanging eggs for groceries or grain. By being careful in gathering eggs, so that they won't become chilled in winter and so the hens won't sit on them overnight and using a little care in sizing and selecting, quite an advance over the common prices may be obtained. When possible, sell your eggs direct to the consumer. If not possible, get a market in your nearest city with some grocery who deals in strictly fancy groceries and provisions. Agree to furnish him only strictly fresh eggs, and then, for your own sake, live up to your agreement. Carefully clean all the eggs; don't send any small, misshapen or large ones. Stamp each egg with a rubber stamp, using your initials or the name of your farm, and in a short time you will have created a demand for your eggs, and when you have created such a demand your eggs will bring the highest prices, considerably more than your storekeeper would pay.

Several neighbors could send their eggs together, paying a cent or two per dozen to one of their number for doing the business, and in this way all would gain a little.

Cold-Storage Tests.

Tests of cold storage, as made by one of the experts of the department of agriculture led to the conclusion that poultry keeps better when not drawn than it does when drawn. The reason is that the process of drawing causes bruises which invite the lodgment of germs. Birds that were dry picked kept much better than those which had been scalded. The experts summed up the requirements as prompt storage, dry picking and dry chilling. These essentials have all been favorable to the cold-storage trade, but seem never to be comprehended by the host of agitators which every year try to secure absurd cold-storage laws.

Open Muslin Front Best.

A glass front poultry house causes extremes in temperature, warming up in the day time and then turning cold with the setting of the sun. This is also apt to cause disease and make the fowls' combs and wattles more sensitive to frosts. The open muslin front is by far the best and at the same time the least expensive. Some glass may be used, but not exclusively.

Sanitary Conditions.

In a recent issue of the Winchester Democrat, Dr. I. A. Shirley, of the State Board of Health, who attended the Conference of Sanitary Workers in the Southern States at Little Rock, Arkansas, recently, gives the following facts which are of interest to the people all over Kentucky:

1. It is the firm belief of every one engaged in the work of improving sanitary conditions in the South so as to make it possible to prevent disease and make life longer and healthier, from the Administrative Sanitary Secretary in Washington to the field men on the firing line, that no greater work has ever been undertaken since that of the meek and lowly Galilean.

2. That eradication of the hookworm disease and not amelioration is not only possible but that nothing short of this will suffice the work or the workers.

3. The same story came from all parts of the Southland of well nigh miraculous cures.

4. The belief, born of experience, that no other disease holds its unfortunate victim so long as hookworm disease; that no other disease makes the one afflicted with it for such a length of time a menace to those around him; that no other disease of equal magnitude is so surely and speedily curable.

5. That no other disease shows such a variety of symptoms and sometimes no symptoms at all, as hookworm disease.

6. That while as a rule it is to be found where the sanitary conditions are the worst; that is, where the privies are not water tight and fly proof, yet it is found under better surroundings sufficiently often to make it the imperative duty of everyone, who leaves ideal environments for even a short time to seek examination lest the monster disease, like a thief in the night, steals a march upon him, to be diagnosed when it may be everlastingly too late.

7. Hookworm carriers, persons harboring very few worms and positively without symptoms, except, occasionally, indigestion are among the most dangerous members of the community as propagators; hence the duty that everybody owes to themselves and the community to be absolutely certain that they are free from these worms.

8. That from the examination of more than 30,000 people from 115 counties our own beloved State is found to be one of the most heavily infected, and we earnestly hope for such a co-operation of our blighting facilities, county, municipal and individual, that ere long it can be truthfully said that Kentucky, the flower of the constellation of Southern states, is for one, at least, free from this blighting curse.

9. That every citizen who has not already done so, should secure a copy of the Bulletin of the State Board of Health from its office in Bowling Green, telling about this disease and submit the necessary specimen so they can know whether they have it or not.

Would Raise Buffaloes To Reduce Meat Prices.

Joseph Wright, of Danville, Ky., dealer in imported and domestic jacks, is planning to convert a portion of his fine blue grass farm, south of Danville, into a buffalo ranch. He says that buffalo can be produced at less expense than cattle and are fully as desirable for butchering. He is at present negotiating with Western breeders for his foundation stock. He contends that if the farmers will engage extensively in the breeding of buffaloes the day will soon arrive when meat prices will be materially reduced. A very strong sentiment has developed in this country in opposition to the slaughtering of veals. The little calves are killed before they are large enough to produce much meat. By their being killed the supply of cattle is cut short, and the result is high prices for meat.

DAY'S DUTY PUT ON RECORD

Resourceful Mistress of House Devised Shrewd Scheme for Instruction of Swedish Maid.

A Brooklyn woman who was going out of town for a few days was in a quandary over the problem of her husband's existence during her absence. The maid was Swedish and could neither read or write English, yet she somehow must be told each day, as only the mistress could tell her, what should be done about the house. A moment's thought solved the problem.

A list of each day's duties was made out. Next a phonograph dealer was called up and instructed to send up half a dozen blank records. The mistress then sat down in front of her machine and dictated her orders, using one record for each day's instructions. The records were then placed in their pasteboard cases, and the days on which they should be used were indicated on the outside by one, two, three and four straight lines, making a mistake impossible. As a result not only was everything in perfect order upon her return, but the novelty had so appealed to the maid that she had "played" her orders over and over until she could repeat them word for word.

CRUSHED IN THE RUSH

"Is your boy on the football team this year?"
"I hope so; he was under it last year."

DEVOTION UNREQUITED.

A Washington woman has in her employ as butler a colored man of a pompous and satisfied mien, who not long ago permitted a damsel, long his ardent admirer, to become his sponse. One day when the mistress of the house had occasion temporarily to avail herself of the services of the butler's wife, it was observed that whenever the duties of the two brought them in conjunction the bride's eyes would shine with extraordinary devotion. "Your wife seems wonderfully attached to you, Thomas," casually observed the mistress of the house. "Yes, ma'am," answered Thomas, complacently. "Ain't it jest sickenin'?"

UNKIND INFERENCE.

A belated election story is floating around about a prominent stock exchange member who ran for the assembly and only got two votes. The morning after one of his friends came up to him and told him that he understood a warrant had been issued for his arrest. "A warrant?" said the astonished broker. "For what?" "For repeating," replied his friend.

NOT A BAD IDEA.

Scene (street car; weather stormy).
Conductor—Transfer, sir?
Passenger—No, I guess I'll have a rain check.—Judge.

BASEBALL PARADISE.

Redd—What do you suppose is a baseball enthusiast's idea of paradise?
Greene—Why, I suppose it is some place studded with diamonds.

INDUCEMENT.

Magnate—Young man, I had to dig for everything I ever got.
Young Man (mildly surprised)—Well, who wouldn't dig for everything?—Judge.

NOT THAT KIND.

Gibbs—I like a man who can give and take, don't you?
Dibbs—Not if his specialties are giving advice and taking offense.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

"He seems to take himself so terribly seriously."
"Yes. He once wrote about a dozen lines that nobody understood."

BOOSTER EDITION.

When the parcel post went into effect January 1st, many of our local merchants fearing that it would materially effect their business suggested to the management of this paper that they get out a special booster paper showing the many advantages of trading here at home rather than sending away for their goods, etc. With this in mind we contracted with Mr. W. H. Ward, of New York, who has been here for the past week and who will issue some time during the early part of February a booster booklet giving a history of Mt. Sterling, illustrated with cuts of the government building, court house, public school, depot, a few street scenes, tobacco warehouses and a number of the stores of progressive merchants. If you merchants believe our city to be one of the best in the Blue Grass and that you can and will furnish your wares as good and as cheap as they can be bought elsewhere then enroll yourselves on the boosters' list and let the people of Montgomery and adjoining counties know it. "Judicious advertising is the keynote to success."

DAN J. HOLLEARN.

Having been a Democrat all of his life, a resident of the county for thirty-two years and never having cast a vote out of Montgomery county and given the party the best service he could render since reaching his majority, Mr. Dan J. Hollearn now asks the party to honor him with the Democratic nomination for County Jailer at the State Primary August 2, 1913. He has never held an office within the gift of the people, but has served as Special Policeman of the City of Mt. Sterling on many occasions always with entire satisfaction and therefore knows, in a way, the duties of Jailer. He is a genial, whole souled, kind hearted gentleman and should be so fortunate as to secure the office to which he aspires we believe will make the people an efficient and painstaking official. We present the name of this worthy Democrat with pleasure and trust that the voters will give him claims all the consideration that are due them.

JOE W. LANGSTON.

With his permission we place in our columns the name of Mr. Joe W. Langston as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Jailer of Montgomery County, subject to the action of the State Primary August 2, 1913. Mr. Langston is not a new man in politics having once served as City Jailer or Warden and as far as we know gave perfect satisfaction. He is therefore familiar with the duties of the office for which he aspires, and should be honored by election to the office of Jailer we feel confident that he will give the county good, conscientious service. He has always been a loyal party worker and believes that his services to the party deserve the reward he is asking for. It gives us pleasure to present his claims to the Democrats and we ask that they be given due consideration.

If gold were as plentiful as we all wish it were, it would be valueless, and if great characters were easy of attainment they would not then be great characters. Value is found in scarcity and glory in the sacrifice and danger.

It is at least some satisfaction to know that we do not have to depend on the Adams Express Company now to hand us our mangled packages nine days late and then tell us to go to h—l when we meekly ask why we didn't get it in the same month the sender intended it to reach us.—Lexington Herald.

C. B. PATTERSON, Cashier

Walter Jones in "Baby Mine."

Manager Wilkerson announces that he has completed arrangements with William A. Brady, Ltd., whereby the production of "Baby Mine" will be presented at the Tabb Opera House Friday, Jan. 31st, with Walter Jones in his original character of "Jimmy" as played by him in New York City over 450 times.

This necessarily means a great deal to theatre-goers of this city, inasmuch as Mr. Brady is sending the Company which has played almost continuously for an entire year at Daly's Theatre, New York.

The thread of human interest and roaring fun, from a seemingly endless vent, so offered in the sensational comedy "Baby Mine," is the reason of its utter success. The profound praise from people in all walks of life, who enjoy sterling fun and laughter, has immediately followed the presentation of the comedy in this country and, London. "Baby Mine" is surrounded by everything to create continuous merriment, and good natured mirth and literal comedy luxuriate throughout the play. Enthusiasm is aroused at the start, with the unfolding of conditions occasioned by a very young, prevaricating, but innocent wife. Energetic humor and vociferous laughter are the important facts at all times. The ratchinations and manipulations of well-meaning but ill-advised friends of the young wife, who has been awakened to the importance of "sweet motherhood," to bring about a reconciliation with a self-exiled husband, generate many supremely amusing and side-splitting conditions.

It is encouraging when we think of what is being done by the country at large to stamp out evils, but oh, there is so much yet to be done, and each community has its own problems which must be worked out by its own citizens. BIBLE STUDY ON

THE DELUGE EFFECT.

Genesis 6:9-22; 7:11-24—Feb. 2.

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord."—Romans 6:23.

SCIENTIFIC Bible students find the Bible story of the Deluge corroborated by Geology, Astronomy and History. The oldest records of Babylonia tell of the Deluge. But no record compares with the Genesis account or gives a connected history of 1656 years from Adam to the Flood.

Geology demonstrates that there have been several great deluges. When we ask whence such floods could come, Astronomy points us to Saturn and Jupiter with their "rings," composed of minerals thrown off as gas when the planets were at white heat. These gases cooled and formed various rings. The rotation of the planets on their axes causes these rings to spread out as great envelopes, and gradually to thin at the equator and thicken at the poles, until they collapse, causing deluges.

The earth once had similar "rings," precipitated one after another, at long intervals during the Six Great Creative Days. God so timed His Plan that the last of earth's rings was still unbroken when man was created. But it had spread into a great canopy or veil. There could be neither rain nor storm under such conditions. (Genesis 2:5.) The temperature of the whole earth was equable, the sun's rays acting upon the canopy as upon the white glass of a hot-house.

Why the Polar Ice?

Geology testifies to a Glacial Period, when great icebergs, carried by floods of water, rushed from the poles toward the equator. Scientists have traced great valleys cut by these icebergs during this period.

The collapse of the canopy caused a deluge at both poles, a flow of great tidal waves toward the equator and sudden, intense cold at the poles. The water froze so rapidly that in recent years animals with grass between their teeth have been dug out of solid polar ice.

The vertical rays of the sun kept the equatorial atmosphere very hot until the trade winds sprang up, distributing the heat over the earth. The equatorial waters were also very hot, until the ocean currents set in. These, like the Gulf Stream, carry the warm equatorial waters toward the poles. These processes, going on for 4400 years, are gradually thawing out the polar regions, and causing large numbers of icebergs to break loose from the polar glaciers, and distress mariners.

Professor George Frederick Wright has dropped a suggestion which fits well with the Bible narrative that Noah's ark apparently remained near the place where it was built. As we understand the professor, the geological evidences are that swift currents laden with icebergs and rocks visited parts of America, Europe and Asia, but seemingly avoided Mt. Ararat, where evidently an eddy formed, for alluvial deposits there are extraordinarily thick.

The Cause of the Deluge.

Let us inquire. Why did not Divine providence precipitate the last ring before man was created? The answer is that God foreknew the rebellion of Satan and permitted the temptation and fall of man solely because He foresaw how ultimate good could be accomplished and valuable lessons be given both men and angels. All of His dealings are along lines of Justice, guided by Love Divine.

Before the Flood wickedness had greatly increased, but not merely from human depravity. Some of the angels became disobedient to God, and by their greater intelligence led mankind into depths of iniquity.—Genesis 6:1-5.

The Bible cites many instances where angels have materialized as human beings. This power appears to have been possessed by angels before the Flood. Some of them married daughters of men and lived as human beings. The children of these angels were human beings—different from Adam's family.

"All flesh died."

We read that they were giants, "men of renown," who filled the earth with violence. Finally God's displeasure blotted them out of existence in the Deluge. God thus manifested His determination to destroy sin.

Antediluvian sinners of Adam's race belong to the mass of mankind, with whom Messiah will deal during His Millennial Reign of righteousness. After chastisement for wilful disobedience, they may be, if willing, recovered from sin and death, and attain human perfection—at Jesus' cost.

For the sons of angels by human mothers there is no hope. Their existence was not authorized by God. They were not redeemed. They will have no awakening. As for the fallen angels, the Bible tells us that for 4400 years they have been restrained "in chains of darkness," until "the Judgment of the Great Day."—Jude 6.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS.

Around her waist I put my arm—
It felt as soft as cake;
"Oh, dear!" says she, "what liberty
You printer men do take!"
"Why, yes, my girl, my charming girl,"
(I squeezed her some, I guess);
"Can you say aught, my love, against
The freedom of the press?"

I kissed her some—I did, by gum,
She colored like a beet;
Upon my loving soul, she looked
Almost too good to eat!
I gave another kiss, and then
She said: "I do confess,
I rather, kinder, sorter like
The freedom of the press."

Buried Alive.

He is the ripe and finished product of the modern office, where many personalities are jumbled together. From overwork and from monotonously hacking at work which he hates he is irritable and grievous in spirit. He is ready to tell wrong of the other, the damaging anecdote which reveals that all men and most women are weak. From earliest youth he has worked in offices, and twenty years of that atmosphere have subdued him. Those trailing years have enriched him with a slightly venomous human interest in those about, the timidity born of routine indoor work, the servility to those in authority, the scorn of those who work in ways a little more menial than that of his own clerical rut. He is now middle-aged, mature, perfected. He has become pussy-footed, has acquired a soft voice, a purring, apologetic manner. He walks around as if on tiptoe, peering over desks, gently intruding wherever he scents the faint beginnings of an office scandal. In his soothing, low-pitched voice he drops venom into each waiting ear as he goes up and down the office. In his work there is little to which he looks back with pride. A thousand weeks of filing cards, hammering type riters, adding up columns of figures, have not left him with blithe memories of something accomplished, something done. One thing for him they have done: they have thoroughly tamed his spirit. There are no adventurous quests in him. There is never an evening when his spirit will annoy him by yearning to do impossible things. Better than an animal cage of thick iron bars, or a prison cell where the pads are fat and impenetrable, is the modern office for taming the roving blood and reducing to orderliness the leaping joy of life. But there is a way of escape for every man. He can find it, if he will, in the work itself.—Collier's.

PREVENT HEN SITTING DOWN

California Man Invents Apparatus That Will Effectually Break Up Broody Fowl.

As every poultry farmer knows, there are times when he does not want his hens to set and there are some hens he does not want to set at any time. To insure obedience by the stupid birds a California man has invented the apparatus presented here. A breast plate has two wire legs extending down from it. On either end of the plate are straps, which pass under the chicken's wings and buckle over its back. The legs stick out in front and do not in the least interfere with the fowl's freedom of movement, but to prevent her from setting, although she can lay eggs and is expected to do so if she wants to remain popular. When a hen persists in setting the eggs are sometimes hard to find, and when they are found are unfit for any other use.

TO PREVENT DREADED ROUP

Disease Results From Cold in Head and Is Easily Broken Up if Taken in Time.

This is the season for colds. If left unattended a cold will, within comparatively short space of time, develop into either roup or bronchitis. While the two diseases are widely different yet they are both the result of colds, and while the latter is not nearly so disastrous as the former yet many birds die of it. A cold is very easily broken up if taken in time and thus the life of many valuable specimens saved. Purchase a five-cent oil can and fill with coal oil. At the first sign of a cold catch the bird and by pushing the bottom of the can inject one douche of oil into each nostril and into the roof of the mouth. If taken in time this one application is sufficient to cure the bird. Should a cure not be effected repeat twice daily. Result, the entire absence of roup the most dreaded disease. In addition to the coal oil place a small quantity of permanganate of potash in the drinking water.

POULTRY NOTES

Market eggs at least twice each week.

Warmth and comfort are the feed economizers.

Don't forget that lice and mites affect the egg yield.

It requires about four geese to make a pound of feathers.

Be sure that the male at the head of a flock of poultry is purebred.

The more the hen exercises the more eggs she will lay. So keep her scratching.

Dry-picked turkey feathers command a better price in market than scalded ones.

February is generally the beginning of the laying season for both ducks and geese.

Ducks seldom become broody; geese are apt to become broody after laying the first litter.

The hens need strenuous exercise these days to keep them from becoming sluggish and inactive.

The secret of getting winter eggs is early-hatched pullets, well grown, well sheltered and well fed.

Eggs from yearling ducks hatch well, but geese must be about three years old to show strong fertility.

A few drops of little liquid sulphur in bucket of water is fine for chickens in dry weather, once or twice a week.

A little cotton seed meal mixed with mash is fine to produce glossy feathers and helps to supply the meat food needed.

Geese cannot be profitably hatched and reared artificially, while incubators and brooders have revolutionized the duck business.

Green cut bone will make hens lay in winter. Get a bone cutter and grind them yourself, if you cannot buy them already ground.

The older the gender the more vicious he is apt to become during breeding season; the drake seldom shows temper, being of a more timid nature.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, then you need help right away.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks, but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took."

If the careworn, haggard men and women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderfully strengthening and invigorating body-builder, and we sell it under an ironclad guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

The Barkers of Business.

This is an age of sincere advertising. The "hard hitters," the "bulldozers," the "business getters" of an advertising staff are a crew of forceful young men, drawing pay from four to twelve thousand a year, who size up the products of an age and then tell about them in swift, compelling words. They let the country clergyman know that there is a meritorious safety razor for the patient face, and they inform the city clerk of transportation to the sea or the far hills where he can regain health. When they like a book or a periodical or a kitchen ware they get behind it with all their rich enthusiasm and make the author or the inventor widely known throughout a nation. They strengthen the blow of a reformer and widen the range of a poet. With their breezy man talk they gain the ear of any group. And because they are sincere they hold the attention while they proceed with their story. And what they say being true, they are permitted to call again and say still more in praise of the same product, or shift over from a pickle to a building loan, and repeat their thrills and sales. They create pickaninny characters around a dreary impersonal slab of kitchen cleaner, and raise phantoms of delight with the baking powder and the yeast of their sales list. What the man of letters rejects, the advertiser accepts, and from it wrings a blessing. He faces modern life, its inventions, its household devices, its drudgeries, and he releases his playful imagination upon that sober world of trafficking, and touches it to excellence. Fifty years ago a great teacher like Montessori would have worked in obscurity, and it would be left for the slow years after death to unfold her work into daylight and wide renown. Hundreds of groping lives would have reached for the idea without grasping it. Fifty years ago Jane Addams would have been a prophet, but not a leader. Today the advertisements of magazines and book publishers carry her patience and her fertile thought to the consciousness of her race. Under publicity her influence is as pervasive as a climate. Only the warriors and the politicians used to be boomed and magnified in their own generation. The face, the voice, the curve of thought, of many champions are now scattered from the skyscrapers and taught to glow in the twilight of subway stations.—Collier's.

Montgomery Jury Gives Hart's Slayer Death Sentence.

Jim Brown, alias "Shine," was found guilty at Winchester Wednesday of the murder of Deputy Sheriff George M. Hart, and given a death sentence by a jury selected from a special venire of 50 men summoned from Montgomery county. The negro, who had been smiling throughout the hearing, collapsed when the verdict was rendered and was assisted from the court room by officers.

The star witness of the case was Winfree Lee Walters, an eight-year-old boy, who was playing near by and saw the killing, which took place on the corner of Main street and Broadway. He swore that Mr. Hart put his hand on a man's shoulder and that it was that man who shot him. "Shine" had told numerous persons that he was the man on whose shoulder Mr. Hart placed his hand and he testified to that on the witness stand.

The court room was packed to the doors and during the hearing of the testimony and the argument the tears of the fellow-officers and friends of the martyred official flowed freely. The jury was out forty minutes.

G. F. Wycoff argued for the defense and S. T. Davis for the prosecution. Both paid eloquent tributes to the memory of the murdered official.

A special venire of fifty men had been summoned from this county, and the following jury was selected: W. Q. Stephens, A. R. Turley, S. W. Robinson, J. E. Carmichael, Lee Orear, Joe Foley, W. W. Quicksall, H. B. Duff, A. M. Bourne, A. J. Gatewood, Ernest Gillispie and J. Arch Mason.

Perry Oakley Arrested.

A decisive step was taken last week in the long search for the assassin of Jack Staten, who was found dead on a public highway in Bath county September 30, 1912, when Perry Oakley, a farmer, was arrested on the charge of having committed the murder. His arrest followed the issuance of a warrant sworn out by Wickman Moore, William Stamper and W. G. Moore. The warrant was served on Oakley, but the officers found him too ill to leave his bed, and it was thought that he was developing pneumonia. Later he improved and was taken to Owingsville and placed under guard.

It will be remembered that Staten was found dead in the road near Preston, with a load of buckshot in his head and neck. Circumstances surrounding the affair left no room for doubt that Staten had been murdered except that no motive for the crime was apparent. Staten was a peaceable man and it was naturally reasoned that he was shot by mistake, the assassin intending to kill someone else. This idea was drawn from the fact that from his hiding place in the fence corner the murderer could not see his victim until he had passed, and the murder was committed just at dawn. The reward offered by relatives and friends, by the county and State aggregated $1,500, and it has for some time been known that several detectives have been working on the case.

Oakley, who is charged with the murder, is well known throughout Bath county. He has for years shown signs of the infirmities of age and is quite feeble. His examining trial is set for today, January 29.

Sweatshops.

During the last few weeks one hundred and fifty thousand men, women, and young girls in the garment industry of New York City have left their benches and machines, and have gone out on strike for better conditions. Prominent among their demands is the abolition of tenement work, called with pathetic irony "home" work. Of all the blots upon our industrial civilization, this "sweating" system is perhaps the biggest and the blackest. Home indeed! Two rooms, or one, in a crowded, dirty tenement—airless, dark, cluttered beyond belief with the mixed-up refuse of daily living and incessant toil; rank with the germs of the dread diseases that come from hunger and crowding and promiscuous living; cold and cheerless and sad. Only a sort of workshop, but infinitely worse than any shop, for here there are no laws against long hours, child labor, unsanitary conditions, only unceasing, monotonous toil for less than enough to pay for daily bread. Seventy-five per cent. of all the finishing work done in the garment industry of New York is done in this way. Not only is this form of work in itself intolerable, but it drags down the scale of wages in the factory work and seriously menaces the health of the rest of the population. No home is so far away from New York that one of these infected garments may not reach it. The contractors say that if any one concern abolishes home work it will at once be ruined by competition with others who do not. This may or may not be true. But the question should not be left for the disputing parties to decide. In a case so intimately bound up with the welfare of the whole community the conditions should be regulated by the law. One reason why the sweatshop has not long ago been exterminated by an indignant people is given in Mr. Roosevelt's article in this issue. That sort of thing has about reached the limit. The day of sophistical "justice" is waning.—Collier's.

BEST WAY TO TAKE EXERCISE

No Better Plan Than That of Indulging in Long Walks Has as Yet Been Devised.

Walking, if properly and regularly followed, would become not only a restorer of health to many who at the present time are on the road to disease, but also a source of pleasure.

Let the arms swing if you feel like it and the limbs, too; open the nostrils and fill the lungs, and the movements will send a gentle electric vibration through the entire body, the result of which is the awakening of new life. Never take the lazy gait, as it soon makes one tired and produces languor. A little perspiration on the homestretch may prove to be a blessing not only in carrying off matter from the body, but in bringing an increased supply of oxygen into the blood and putting the blush of health on the cheek.

Perhaps the best time to walk is in the early morning. The air is then the most highly charged with the life-giving oxygen and the freest from dust and smoke which rises later in the day. At this time, also, the mind is liable to be free from worry and anxiety, hence in the best condition to drink in the blessings of freshness for us on every hand.—Health.

CLAIM FEES ARE TOO LOW

British Physicians Unanimously Dissatisfied With Remuneration Offered by the Government.

The question of whether it is worth six shillings or eight shillings six pence to a physician practicing in Great Britain to give medical attention to a patient for an entire year continues to be a topic of absorbing interest, not only to the doctors affected, but to medical men throughout the world. The British physicians maintain that the lower figure is inadequate. It is likely that the 120,000 practitioners in the United States and Canada heartily agree with them to a man. The matter is being discussed in medical publications in all civilized countries. The Medical Review of Reviews states that the British Medical association, apparently with the almost unanimous backing of the physicians of England and Scotland, is taking a firm stand against the government, and at its recent annual meeting strong resolutions were passed condemning the measure of the "six-shilling look."

GOOD, BROAD HINT.

They had been talking as they walked. She had remarked pathetically:

"Oh, it must be terrible to a man to be rejected by a woman!"

"Indeed it must," was his response.

Then, after a while, with sympathetic disingenuousness, she exclaimed:

"It doesn't seem that I could ever have the heart to do it."

And there came a silence between them as he thought it over.—Photo Bits.

REAL QUESTION AT ISSUE.

"Do you think," said the young doctor, "that we can afford to operate on this man now?"

"That isn't the question," said the old surgeon. "Can he afford to have us operate is what we want to know."

ONE ADVANTAGE.

"Don't you find your short arms a disadvantage in life?"

"Not altogether. I can reach vigorously for a dinner check, yet let the other fellow beat me to it every time."

Dr. Tigert Accepts.

After thoroughly investigating the situation and the duties expected of him, Dr. J. J. Tigert officially accepted the position of Director of Athletics of State University, succeeding E. R. Sweetland, resigned. Dr. Tigert said that he accepted the position only after he had become certain that by no means Mr. Sweetland could be induced to retain the place.

Dr. Tigert now holds the chair of philosophy at the University and will continue his work in this department, in addition to the duties of athletic director.

I have all my accounts made out and would appreciate it if you would call and settle if you are indebted to me.

THE COST OF LIVING.

The cost of living's awful. There is no doubt of that: Your wife pays sixty dollars For a simple little hat. And lobsters cost a dollar. If you ordered them broiled live And if champagne goes with them, That brings the check to five.

And autos are expensive, Apart from gasoline: There are so many fittings That go with the machine. You think, perhaps, to own one Is cheaper than to hire. And pop goes fifty dollars Each time you bust a tire.

It's no use saving money, For you are sure to lose. Why, now its costs a nickel Each time you shine your shoes! The cost of living's awful If you are prodigal, But there's one way to beat it, Be e-co-nom-i-cal!

MR. HENPECK IS DISCOVERED

Passenger's Voluntary Tip Clears Up Mystery for Street Car Conductor.

A stout lady entered a well-filled street car with her diminutive husband. They sat down side by side and she promptly moved over on top of him to give room for another passenger. "Maria," came from somewhere underneath, "will you please pay the fare? I can't reach for my pocket."

As the conductor approached the following dialogue took place:

"Fares, please."

"Two," said Maria, handing over a dime.

"One?" he questioned as his eyes searched the seat.

"Two," said Maria, handing over a dime.

"Madame, I can only accept fare for one. Your size has nothing to do with it."

"Sir, would you insult a lady?"

"Never, madame. But where's the passenger you wish to pay for?"

Maria gave over an inch or two and glared at the man in the uniform.

"She's sitting on him," a passenger across the aisle volunteered.

"It probably isn't the first time," mumbled the conductor as he gave the register a violent ring. Maria's husband came up suddenly for breath, but sank with the next lurch of the car.

CHINESE MARRIAGE.

Marriages in China are celebrated at the home of the bridegroom, not of the bride, says a writer in the May Wide World Magazine. Before quitting her own house the bride is arrayed in her best dress and jewels, her hair is elaborately arranged and she wears a large hat. A mantle is then thrown about her head and a red silk cloth is placed over her face. Her mother then puts her in a gilt sedan chair, used only for weddings, and locks her in, giving the key to one of the attendants, who delivers it to the bridegroom when the procession arrives at the latter's home. No priest or magistrate officiates at the marriage. The happy pair, the bride still veiled, enters the ancestral hall together and bow three times to the family tablets, afterward sitting down to a table on which are two cups of wine—an offering intended to propitiate the ancestors of the family. They next enter the reception chamber, where the husband removes the veil and mantle from his wife, seeing her face, perhaps, for the first time. The guests and friends then enter the room, gaze upon the blushing bride and convey their felicitations to the happy pair. A wedding banquet is held in the evening, at which the bride, very tactfully, pays especial attention to her parents-in-law.

Harry Bailey Killed in Cynthiana.

Hon. Harry F. Bailey, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District last fall and who was defeated by the Hon. W. J. Fields, was shot and almost instantly killed at Cynthiana, his home town, Monday by J. Newt. Arnold, of Bourbon county. It seemed Mr. Bailey had a note against Arnold and when he presented same for payment the latter grew indignant and shot Bailey without any apparent cause. Arnold was taken to Lexington for safekeeping owing to the high feeling against him in Cynthiana. He had been in trouble before.

Mr. Bailey was former Grand Master of Kentucky Masons, Grand High Priest of the Cynthiana Commandery of the Knights Templar, a prominent lawyer and one of the foremost citizens of Cynthiana.

HOTEL GIBSON STOCK

Reserved for Investors Outside the City

PROTECTION AGAINST TAXATION

Breed, Elliott & Harrison, Investment Bankers, of Cincinnati, announce that they have reserved and offer for sale outside the City of Cincinnati, a portion of their recent purchase of $300,000 of the 6% cumulative preferred stock of the Hotel Gibson Company at par. Shares $100 each. Full particulars of this issue and its protection against taxation will be sent on written request. The following letter explains itself:

BREED, ELLIOTT & HARRISON,
220-222 Walnut Street, City.
Gentlemen—There are multitudes of people in Ohio and elsewhere, who, by their patronage and good-will have contributed to the prosperity and prestige of the old Gibson House. It is our desire to have them and their friends share in the success of the Greater Gibson, of which we are assured. In placing your recent purchase of $300,000 of our 6% Preferred Stock, we beg to remind you that a portion of it should be offered to our friends and patrons in the cities and towns which we name in the enclosed list. We have a large and influential list of stockholders in the city, and desire to extend this interested influence in the territory tributary to Cincinnati. We forecast possible adverse legislation and insure a 6% net investment by a special agreement as to taxes. The sixty years of successful operation of the old hotel guarantees the future.

We are pleased to announce that our claims for fire losses have been adjusted and that our splendid new hotel with its five hundred rooms with baths is in course of erection and will be ready for our friends by the first of the year.

Yours very truly,
J. S. HILL,
President Hotel Gibson Co.
